A FEW WORDS ABOUT KEMP'S ORCHID FLOWERED STRAIN OF JAPANESE IRIS.

The writer has been a great admirer of Japanese Iris for years, and many times thought it a great pity there was so many dull and unattractive colors among them. That they were susceptible of improvement was indicated by an occasional outstanding variety found in almost every collection. With this evidence before me, I determined to see just how far the improvement could be carried by cross pollenization, and how long the work would have to be carried on before my ambitions were realized. I am pleased to say, the time required was much shorter than I had dared to hope for.

Eight years ago this spring I planted a quantity of hand pollenized seed from which about 1,000 plants resulted. Many varieties were very beautiful, and many more were only ordinary, but out of this great lot of varieties I selected some 20 very beautiful ones. These were divided and planted in my Home Garden where they have flowered the past four years. Very many visitors have called at my place to see these beautiful Iris, and many have been the exclamations overheard from visitors. How beautiful! They look like Orchids! It was from overhearing visitors saying, "They look like Orchids", that first inspired me with the idea of calling them Kemp's Orchid Flowered Japanese Iris.

Many visitors urged me to name them and place them on the market as soon as ready. In response to the urge, I have given eighteen varieties good pronounceable names, and am now offering them to the Iris Loving Public, so that all who wish may have an opportunity to procure them in time, and enjoy them with me.

I feel confident that I am offering you a strain of Japanese Iris, more beautiful, and more desirable than any hitherto procurable.

With these wonderfully beautiful Iris, it is now possible to achieve a color effect quite equal to that produced with the Germanica or Liberty Iris, and at a time when there is a dearth of bright colored flowers in the Garden, which makes them all the more acceptable.

The Japanese Iris, are very hardy, and free flowering, and will grow in almost any situation, in full exposure to the sun or in shade. But will succeed best in a naturally moist and moderately rich soil, with full exposure to sunlight.

The prices at which they are being offered have been approved by one of the leading commercial growers of the country, and are for divisions of two or more strong leads, with good roots.

Terms:—Cash with order, to customers without an established credit. In all cases, when credit is desired by unknown persons, please give BANK reference.

Note:—The color descriptions of the several varieties offered in this list, were arrived at by the use of Ridgeway's Standard Color Chart, and are as nearly correct as it was possible for me to work them out.

ATLANTA, (No. 11).

Rosaline pink, with hue of soft lavender pink. Primrose yellow blotch at back of petals, from which radiates faint longitudinal veins of bluish purple. Pistils greenish white with bluish lips. A very dainty and extremely beautiful variety. 6 petals, size of flower 6 inches, height of stalk 45 inches. Price, $1.00 each. $10.00 per dozen.

BOBBY SIPE, (No. 9).

Large white overlaid with prominent feathering of bright bluish violet. The violet being heavier at base of petals, surrounding bright orange blotch. The beautiful color contrast of this variety is impossible of accurate description. It will have to be seen to be properly appreciated. 6 petals. Size of bloom 6 inches, height 48 inches. Price, $1.00 each. $10.00 per dozen.

COLLINGWOOD, (No. 10).

Lavender pink ground, heavily brushed Pieroma violet The violet being much deeper on some of the flowers than on others, giving the appearance of two distinct variety colors from the same plant. The standards or inferior petals are upright and long and prominent. The color being petunia violet, lightly edged lavender pink. Pistils, lilac pink tipped petunia violet. One of the most beautiful color combinations to be seen in the Japanese Iris. 3 petals, size of bloom 7 inches, height 32 inches. Price, $1.00 each. $10.00 per dozen.

CORNELIA, (No. 13).

White, prominently veined purplish blue, with cadmium orange blotch at base of petals, edged dull purple. Standards or inferior petals 3 inches long, 1 inch wide, paris blue, lower half. Upper half white, heavily veined paris blue. Pistils, white tinted lavender, with lighter tinted lips. An extremely fine variety that should find much favor with all Iris lovers. 3 petals, size of flower 7 inches, height of stalk 50 inches. Price, $1.00 each. $10.00 per dozen.

NEW IRIS FROM JAPAN
(Species) Laevigata Alba Purpurea

This new and valuable Iris is comparatively unknown in this country, and is now being offered for the first time by an American grower.

The late Dr. Van Fleet pronounced it the most important and valuable species of Iris discovered in many years; and regarded it as one of the most desirable hardy herbaceous plant novelties brought to his attention during the many years of his connection with the United States Department of Agriculture.

The color is a very pleasing combination of blue and white; distance from any other known Iris. Six petals; flowers flat like the Kaempferi (Japan Iris), four to five inches across; borne on stems 20 to 25 inches high. Season of blooming just between the German and Kaempferi types. Succeeds best in rather moist situation.

A very valuable acquisition to the Iris family that every lover of the Iris will want. Stock very limited.

Price. Strong divisions, two or more leads, each $1.00; 6 for $5.00; 12 for $9.00. Postpaid.
